Rod Rutherford's books are a great resource for students of God's word. In my work at this congregation I have used Survey of the Old Testament and Survey of the New Testament in the adult Bible class. They were well received because they are easy to understand yet have sufficient "meat" (cf. Heb. 5:12-14; KJV). The material is well organized in an outline format with adequate white space and a large enough font size (12 point) that makes it easy to read.

Preachers can also make good use of Rod's material in preparing sermons. I recently used The Millennial Mania (A Survey of Premillennialism) for this purpose. Brother Rutherford took a complicated doctrine and quite masterfully exposed its manifold errors. The information in each lesson could supplement the preacher's own work. Additionally, the outline could be preached "as is" or with slight adaptation.

I have several other books brother Rutherford has written over the years such as The One True Church, Denominational Doctrines, Survey of World Religions and Practical Principles of World Evangelism. If you were to buy any of his books I am confident you would be pleased.

A fellow servant of the Lord Jesus Christ,

Douglas Hoff, preacher
